

Guidelines for Officers

Tucson African Violet Society (TAVS)

East (E) and Northwest (NW)

PRESIDENT'S DUTIES

The President should be very organized. Always be a month ahead, or you will be in trouble.

According to the Rules & Policies of TAVS "The President shall preside at all the meetings of the Society (as he/she desires) perform such duties as regularly pertain to the office, and be an ex-officio member of all committee except the Nominating committee. The President shall appoint all committee chairpersons as necessary."

To clarify the above statement:

- The President leads all regular meetings and the board meeting.
- The President sets up the agenda for each meeting - with the help of board members.
- The President has to get agenda, handouts, newsletter, etc. to the Vice Presidents of the meetings over which s/he is not going to preside.
- The President works closely with all officers and Show Chairmen for the good functioning of the Society, according to the on-line booklet supplied by the AVSA "Guide for Affiliate Presidents and AVSA Representatives."
- The President chooses carefully each chairman and assigns some responsibility to as many members as possible.
- The President should be generous in expressing appreciation and thanks for efforts and achievements of individuals. Be cheerful!
- The President should review the Policies & Procedures of the society to be aware of how the club functions. VERY IMPORTANT!
- The President appoints a nominating committee consisting of two representatives from each group and a member of the previous year committee at the January meeting. (No current executive board member shall serve on this committee.)
- The President updates club information on the AVSA website.
- The President, along with the Treasurer, may authorize checks for Club use.
- The President and the AVSA Representative are to encourage members of TAVS to become members of AVSA and to attend schools for judges.
- The President works with the Vice Presidents to plan the programs for the entire year. The year's calendar is published in the annual-update section of the Members Handbook, a responsibility of the Lead Vice President.

- The President should try to attend other garden-club functions and visit clubs in the area.
- The President should encourage members to contact newcomers in their neighborhoods and to promote interest in African violets by sharing plants, leaves, display, etc.
- The President needs to respond to public/members who contact them within 24 hours, very important in keeping membership and getting new members.
- The President should always contact new members by phone or email, welcoming them to the club, letting them know who their mentor is, and getting the mentor information from the Lead Vice President.
- The President needs to keep the whole meeting at no more than two hours, keeping the meeting part as short as possible.
- The President needs to keep the meeting moving and in control. If someone wants to complain or cause trouble, stop them before they get going and tell them to write a letter to the Executive Board.
- At the end of each term get your officers a gift if there is a budget for this.
- The immediate past President shall attend the first three months' board meetings to help the new President.

SECTION VICE PRESIDENT'S DUTIES

Read the Rules & Policies

- One of the Vice Presidents (VP) has to be the Lead VP. You make sure the other VPs have the signup sheets to pass around at their meetings, and do the schedule, get it copied, give it to the other VPs to handout at September meetings. More details below.
- The lead VP will put the whole schedule together, this includes: Membership list, monthly meetings, officers, library, list of growers, mentors, growers guidelines, budget, club supplies, hosts helpful hints and officers and other positions duties. (Look at a previous one.) This is to be emailed or handed out at the September meetings.
- The VPs should pass around signup sheets at the end of their term in March and April for the summer, fall programs and hosts for the next year. Hand these over to the new VPs when they come into office in May at the May potluck so they can pass them around at the potluck.

- Announce at the May potluck that each member will be notified about the summer programs. Also, put in the newsletter what we do over the summer.
- VPs should get together in May and decide what the summer programs will be and at what location. Notify Newsletter editor and Webmaster with this information so the information can be published prior to summer events.
- Summer programs are June, July, and August and usually on a Saturday. Let the Secretaries know two or three weeks ahead of time so they can send out email reminder or call.
- Put schedule together over the summer usually in July when you get the new membership list from the Treasurer. Once you have the new membership list, have a meeting with the other VPs in July and see what members requested for the programs (from signup sheets that were sent around) for the regular meetings. Figure out what months you want to do what programs and who you can ask to do them. You might kind of spell it out what you want them to do for the program—if you want it to be very visual or a hands-on program. If members go to the National Show, they will be asked to give a program at the December potluck.
- Update the membership list for the schedule and put an asterisk (*) by names of those who are AVSA members-
- VPs assign new members to mentors and then notify the Lead VP and President. Try to put together people who live close to each other; going by zip code helps to figure it out. Ask the mentor to contact the new member and get together with them. Members are assigned a mentor for two years, published in the annual-update section of the Members Handbook. (See previous ones).
- Each VP should go through the membership list and schedule everyone to be a host in his/her group. Prior to the September meeting, notify the members who are hosts for the first meeting. Contact the hosts, person doing program, and person bringing the door prize gift each month. Having everyone host helps get them to meetings, and everyone takes a turn. Instruct the members that, if someone cannot host their month, they should trade with the member assigned in the next month or so. The lead VP will give a deadline to the other VPs to get the above information to them.
- Have Members Handbook with schedule, new member information and bylaws in them at every meeting for possible new member.
- One VP should buy notebooks and give some to the other VPs. Whoever buys them, turn in the receipt to the Treasurer—remember anything over $50.00 has to be approved by the Board.

- It is important that you make it to all meetings so you can greet visitors and make them feel welcome. If they join give them a notebook with all above information in it and have them fill out membership information sheet. Give a copy of the membership information sheet to the president and email/call the editor of the newsletter so they can put the information in the newsletter.
- Each respective VP takes care of all the scheduling and member information for their group.
- You will go to board meetings called by the President and take the place of the President if they can not make it to a meeting.
- At least one of the VPs should have a computer, as it will make this job a lot easier.

SECTION SECRETARIES' DUTIES

The Secretaries have the following duties:

Read the Rules & Policies

- Take minutes at regular meetings and take turns at potlucks. Mail or email the minutes to members within two weeks.
- Take turns taking minutes and reading minutes at board meetings. Mail or email minutes to the board members within two weeks.
- Maintain a record of all minutes by placing a copy of each set of minutes in the Secretaries notebook.
- Notify all members in your group about a week prior to all regular meetings, summer programs and any extra programs.
- Keep spreadsheet on who does and does not attend meetings for your group. This will be given to Entries at the spring show for Awards purposes. (This should be done by one of the section Secretaries.)
- Retain receipts from purchases of stamps, postcards, mailing labels, and other incidentals and turn them into the Treasurer for reimbursement before they total $50.
- Preside at meetings in the absence of President and the Vice President.

TREASURER'S DUTIES

General Duties

Read Rules & Policies

- Go to the bank and sign a signature card with the President in order to write checks for the club. Must have a letter from the Secretary too (depends upon bank).
- Receive all money from members dues (due April 1, see Rules & Policies), sale of club supplies, 10 % of members plant sold at meetings, show receipts and any other money collected by TAVS. Keep track of where money comes from as you will list the deposits separately in monthly and year end report.

- Deposit all money into the checking account keeping a record of same.
- Pay all expenditures, keeping a copy of all bills for the files. Write on the top of each bill the following, date paid, amount paid, check number, along with what the expenditure was for. Anything over $50.00 must be approved by the membership or executive board prior to payment.
- Reconcile Bank Statements.
- A Treasurer report showing the bank account balance and any bill to be paid will be made monthly. This report will be in newsletter each month. Make a copy for the Treasurer's file.
- Receive dues for new members at each meeting making sure to let the newsletter editor and board members know the new members name, address, phone number, what group meeting they will attend, and if they are an AVSA member.
- Members' dues are due in April, and will pay a late fee after July 1. See Rules & Policies, A, 1. Keep a list of all members who paid their dues. List members name, address, phone number, email address, either a east or northwest member, when dues were paid and if they are a new member or an AVSA member. This information will be used to update our membership list throughout the year. This information needs to be delivered to the Vice Presidents right after the first of July to do the schedule.
- Pay insurance in January for all active members who have attended three or more meetings and paid their dues. AVSA will send an invoice to be completed, requesting the number of members to be insured. Provide them with the information along with a check.
- File a nonprofit organization tax report.
- Maintain a spreadsheet (helps to have a computer) with the information listed on the budget for general account and show account. List each check written along with any deposits. Show each expenditure under the appropriate category along with each deposit under the category the money was received. Reconcile each category showing the money received the money spent along with the balance left in the banking account. For a monthly and final reports show money received, money spent for each category, along with money budgeted and if we were over or under in each budgeted item. This helps put the next years' budget together. You should notify the President if going over in one of the budgeted items.

- Send monthly report to newsletter editor
- Maintain records for audit by a non-Society member accountant prior to presenting annual report at the May meeting. See Rules & Policies.
- Send any correspondent necessary to document any action taken while Treasurer, keeping a copy for your files.

TREASURER SHOW DUTIES

- As the Treasurer you are also the Cashiers Chair for each show. You have to recruit members to help you man the registers at all times, making sure the cash register-is in working order and that you have cash register tape. It is very busy the first part of each day so extra help will be needed during that time. It is your responsibility to make sure money is on hand at all times during the show.
- Pay all show expenses, keeping track of what category they will fall into.
- Prior to the show date go to the bank and withdraw money from the account. Usually the amount of $250.00 or $400.00 depending on the size of the show and sale. Get bills of 1's, 5's, 10's and 20's. Get coins in quarters, dimes, nickels. See cashier book for amounts.
- At the end of the first day count the money at home (checks and cash) and only take enough money the next morning to start selling. Take the same amount you started with the day before.
- At the end of each show follow the procedures listed, count money, cash and checks. Stamp all with the TAVS deposit stamp. Total checks on adding machine with tape showing the total of all checks to be deposited, attach this tape to the deposit slip along with the checks. Before you deposit the checks make a list of name, address, and phone number (if a TAVS member don't list.) Give this list to the person who sends out the cards to the public advising them when the shows and sales are.
- After listing the information from the checks, deposit the checks along with the cash. This should be done right away as a $3,000.00 balance in the checking account will keep the club from paying bank charges each month.
- When determining how much money was made at the show deduct the money withdrawn from the checking account used at the beginning of the show so it is not counted as part of the sales.
- Growers use sticks to sell their plants, you pay them by how many sticks you have. More detail in cashiers notebook.
- Make a spreadsheet for each grower showing how much they sold and pay them 80% of that amount the club keeps 20%. Show the growers and clubs percentage on this report. See cashiers notebook for more detail.

- After all growers spreadsheets are complete, send them a check and spreadsheet. Keep a copy of spreadsheet for your file. See samples in Treasurer's files or cashier notebook. You have ten (10) working days to pay the growers.
- Make a final report of money paid to growers, judges, and any other expenses for the show and sale, money retained by the club, money collected for city and state tax, along with the profit or loss statement. This must be done within two weeks of each show. The figures from this report should go to the executive board, show chairman.
- Give summary report to newsletter editor for the newsletter.
- Note, we have a sales license for the City and State taxes; they are different license and different numbers.
- Always take the City and State sales license to every show.
- When members sell their show plants at the end of each show they must pay the club 10% of that sale. There is a slip they are given if they are going to sell the plant and that must be turned in with the 10%. These sales are not taxed, but the 10% income can be reported as part of the show.
